

Today, more people live in slavery than at any point in human history. Human Trafficking is a multi-billion dollar industry, and it's not just an international problem. Ohio is one of the infamous Dirty Dozen states. That means we have little or no significant legislation that's enforced to fight human trafficking. And with Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati and Columbus considered major hotbeds for trafficking, it's time someone did something about it. Every week, we gather to worship the God who not only created us, but freed us from slavery. First in Egypt, then from Sin and Death. Freeing slaves is what God does, and as God's people, we're called to proclaim freedom to captives - both physically and spiritually.

Join us tonight at 6pm as we learn from many who are already fighting human trafficking how we can get involved!

Scripture for Further Reading

Exodus 3; Isaiah 6:1-8; Luke 4:14-19; John 8:31-36

Questions for Discussion

1. Before today, how aware were you of the realities of Human Trafficking?
2. What most surprised you about Human Trafficking?
3. What role do Christians have in fighting against modern day slavery?
4. How might you get involved in the fight against Human Trafficking?

