

Discussion Guide for “WandaVision”

CataVision Week 1

Marvel's WandaVision explores our desire to hide from grief and pain. It's easier to look to the past, to pine for the Good Ole Days than it is to imagine a future on the other side of pain. But Jesus assures us that the light of his truth is better than the darkness of our self-deception. By faith, we can hope that what's ahead of us is greater than what lies in our past.

Questions for Discussion

1. Have you seen WandaVision? If so, what stuck out most to you about the series? If not, what were your big takeaways from JR.'s description?
2. What is it about grief that makes us want to look backwards?
3. How does grief facilitate self-deception? Why is it so dangerous?
4. Review James' words in 1:19-27. How does God invite us to see ourselves truthfully?
5. What are some examples you've seen of people hiding from change? How is hope an antidote for grief?
